'Aspire, Believe, Achieve'

We want our pupils to move from us, confident, curious, articulate, creative, independent and well-prepared for their next stage. We want to produce collaborators, innovators, leaders and, more than anything else, young people who understand what it is to be human.

Reading, Reading, Reading...

Next week, we have another exciting Author Visit, Michael O'Connor. He is a local author of books such as Scrambled Eggs and The Pink Stripy Pipefish will be sharing his love of stories to inspire our children...

Inspiration. It is one of our core values for a special reason. We want our children to be inspired when they meet an author, someone who knows how grip their imaginations. They are then inspired to read and they are inspired to write. They want that book that is being shared and they want to find out what happens; they want to create a story like yours; they are excited!

Children, on meeting an author get insights into how successful poems, stories and factual books are created. They get to ask questions. They get to know where ideas come from and how characters are brought alive. They are let into secrets.

A good author visit is full of great book recommendations, overflowing enthusiasm, brilliant ideas for writing, useful tips, encouragement to keep trying, real-life stories of meeting rejection but not giving up...

The end of the Day.

Whilst waiting for younger siblings to come out of school, please remind your children that they are not to play on the main playground. The reason we request this, is to avoid any confusions at the end of the day when staff are handing over the children to parents.

We thank you for your support in this matter.

What have you done to feel proud?

Charlie set himself the challenge of reading as many as he could before bed time. He achieved a grand total of 20 books which is absolutely fantastic!

If you are lucky enough to visit Class 2, check out the ever growing titles written by our very own pupils – they are amazing!

Noah is so proud of the story/poem he wrote at home Wonderful descriptive writing!

And, Florence and Bea have been busy writing poetry books about oceans at home and at break times!
