For Parents - Assessing Smartphone Readiness

"Is my child old enough to have a phone?" It's a common, understandable question that we get from many parents, but it's also one that is very difficult to answer as there are so many factors involved. For younger children it's often peer pressure, with older children social isolation is very common. Often, advice has to be given particular to that child/family, rather than a one-size-fits-all solution.

The Institute for Digital Media and Child Development have put together some tip sheets for parents which are really useful. There are 3 parts:

- Assessing readiness.
- Preparing for healthy use.
- What now?

You can view all the tip sheets at

Take up the challenge and Dress up for Digits!

Friday 2nd February.

Non-uniform day

Don't forget this year we are taking part in the NSPCC'S mega maths fundraising day Number day to raise awareness and fundraise for this great cause.

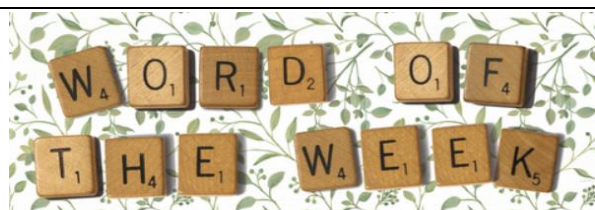

Get involved and wear an item of clothing with a number or numbers on it and make a donation if you can.

You might have a favourite sports top or cap, or even a onesie.

Or why not get more creative and design a unique t-shirt, hat or even become a human-sized calculator or dice!
